Warren's Board Finds Seventies

(Above) Located on the west end of Warren Central, the Administration building houses some of the most important business concerning Warren schools.

(Far Right) Mr. Austin E. Walker, Superintendent of the Metropolitan School District of Warren Township, and Mr. Edward H. Cuddy, Assistant Superintendent, capably face the problems which arise each year with wise decisions.

To Be Decade Full Of Decisions

"Education has been defined as the process of training and developing the knowledge, skill, mind and character of an individual."

This quote taken from the revised due process policy states the Warren Township Board of Education's philosophy of education. The statement, which was sent to each student, outlined the behavioral standards of the classroom, school sponsored activities, or any behavior which disrupts the school purpose. The purpose was to help develop a positive attitude toward school. Outlined were the delegations of authority, limitations on delegations and the exact definition of serious offenses. This statement established the due process of law as guaranteed in the Constitution. This goes in accordance with the responsibilities that the youth of today has acquired, such as the 18 year-old vote. This policy was also introduced in the 1972 State Legislature.

In addition to this, the Board released a revised dress code, in answer to the constant criticism, which permitted the students to form a more liberal and relaxed school atmosphere. The Administration also met with representative students on the subject of homeroom change. As a result of the conference, homeroom period was shortened 15 minutes and now follows second period.

Perhaps one of the most important decisions, still looms in the future. The subject—busing for the purpose of integration. At the beginning of the school year the Administration issued a statement saying Warren Township students could not be bussed to other schools. However, no statement as yet has been made on allowing students to be bussed in. The Administration will have to decide what policy they will adopt on this moral conflict.

Besides the routine duties of bus scheduling, class scheduling, handling the payroll, and issuing student's grades, the Administration faced many problems which required careful investigation, since the welfare of each student has been placed in their hands. Most important of all, however, was the improved relationships between the student body and the Administration which proved to show 1971-72 as a vastly more productive year.

Dr. Reed Resumes Responsibilities; Guidance Offers Aid And Advice

Dr. John O. Reed returned to Warren this year after a one year leave of absence. During this leave of absence he attended Ball State University, and received a Doctorate Degree in Education.

Among his many administrative duties, such as signing all official forms, carrying out policy, Dr. Reed must also attend administrative meetings every Monday morning.

Dr. Reed's Assistant Principals, Mr. Chandler and Mr. Gates also handle administrative details. A few of Mr. Chandler's duties are co-sponsor of Student Council and the responsibility for class scheduling. Mr. Gates sponsors Senior Council and is in charge of all student locks and lockers.

Dean of Girls, Mrs. Montgomery, oversees the disciplinary actions of the girls, Mrs. Lockwood, Assistant Dean, takes care of the absentee lists, and all girls must see her for excuses and readmittance. Mr. Medcalfe, Dean of Boys, and his new Assistant Dean, Mr. Giese, perform the same respective duties as the Dean of Girls.

The main function of the Guidance office is to help the student decide which classes he would like to take, and plan his high school curriculum. In addition to this, the SAT tests, Achievement tests, and Iowa tests were all handled by Guidance office personnel.

Through Student Council a suggestion was made to sponsor a College Night. Most students feel that the Guidance Department does not adequately answer questions and provide information in regard to the student's future college choice. The reason being that the counselors are overloaded with class scheduling, which limits the amount of time they can spend with each individual student in helping him choose his college.

To Benefit Students And Administration

The change in semesters was accompanied by the change in homeroom. For several years, homeroom has been questioned as to the use the student made of it for homework, and if the student only joined clubs to "get out of homeroom", rather than because he is truly interested in participating in the club and its related activities.

Hopefully, a step in the right direction was made to solve these problems. Through the Student Council and the Administration, homeroom period was moved from 8 o'clock to between second and third period. Homeroom was also shortened from 45 to 30 minutes to allow school to begin five minutes later in the morning and end five minutes earlier in the afternoon. The change in homeroom sharply limited the amount of time which clubs had to conduct meetings, so it became necessary for a few clubs to meet after school. Also, one minute was added to each of the five lunch periods.

Of course, the majority of students will continue to use homeroom as a time to finish up homework, use the media center, attend club meetings, obtain tutoring, and naturally, a few will continue to use homeroom as a time to catch up on sleep.

(Above Left) In Mr. Meise's homeroom, as in other typical Warren homerooms, students line up each day to present their passes which enable them to attend club meetings, obtain tutoring, and make those time consuming trips to the bookstore.

(Left) Homeroom time is utilized by the cheerleaders and pep block to lift school spirit through colorful signs and clever unique announcements.

Representatives In Student Council Strive Toward Betterment Of WC

As students become more aware of the situations occurring at school as well as in the community, a way to voice their opinions is needed. Student Council serves as this outlet to suggest new ways to operate school affairs. The vast changes that have occurred at Warren this year are due to the work of the Council and their sponsors.

Warrenites had been demanding a change in homeroom for some time, and this year the change was realized. Student Council instigated the change, which took place at the beginning of the second semester, making homeroom only 30 minutes long and moving it to after second period.

The Student Council, working with the Administration, revised the dress code to bring about a more liberal and relevant standard of grooming.

In addition to these changes the council obtained a malt machine, which under the supervision of cafeteria personnel, is used during all lunch periods. This was not the only addition to the cafeteria. A bulletin board was placed in the cafeteria so the students could post notices of community affairs, place want-ads, and advertise items for sale.

The possibility of opening 18th Street only to one way traffic, was proposed, petitions were circulated, and after approval from the Department of Transportation, it was opened to one-way traffic after school activities beginning February 11, after the Arlington basketball game.

Warren Central's Student Council spent an extremely busy year trying to improve the school and satisfy the needs of its student body.

Hi-C And National Honor Society Aid Spiritual And Mental Growth

This year the Warren Central chapter of the National Honor Society centered itself around the theme of ecology. Under the capable supervision of Mr. Herbert Korra, the club combined forces with the Science Club for several meetings with guest speakers, slides, and films on ecology. The NHS also meets to discuss current events involving students and the community.

With the many academic achievements of the NHS, the highlight of the year was the annual spaghetti supper. The proceeds were contributed to the scholarship fund.

A year-long project was the tutoring program in which Honor Society members assisted over 100 students in a variety of subjects. The program was so popular that tutors had to be recruited from outside Honor Society.

Before the official school day begins, the student body and faculty took time out for five minute morning devotions presented by members of the Hi-C Club.

Hi-C continued its Feed-A-Family canned food drive this year. However, this year club officers felt that so many other charity drives are scheduled for Christmas season that assistance in February would be more valuable.

Eleven families were helped by Hi-C in the first phase of the drive which also included contributions from junior high and elementary schools.

The devotions, the food drive, and the meetings provided the students with an opportunity for Christian fellowship.

Warren's Service Organizations Prepare Students For Tomorrow

One of the oldest clubs at Warren Central, with membership surpassed only by the Hi-C Bible Club, is the Warrenettes Club. Warrenettes is an all-girl club at Warren Central, with membership open to all sophomore, junior, and senior girls interested in bettering the community.

Special activities keep Warrenette members at a busy pace throughout the year. Guest speakers and fashion shows are a few of the events in which the members of Warrenettes are a part.

An organization in which Warren Central has outstanding representation is the Junior Heartboard, sponsored by the Indiana chapter of the National Heart Association. Membership is open to students interested in the prevention of heart diseases, or in serving a charity.

An annual Marion County Heart Board Dance, with a queen candidate from each school, is held to raise money for the Heart Association. This year it was held at Lafayette Square Mall. Warren's candidate was Maralee Dykeman.

Two Courses Introduced To English Dept.

Starting this year, two new classes were added to supplement the English Department's variety of learning in various branches of Literature.

A Creative Writing Class was started to let students delve into their minds to write plays, short stories, poems and discuss whether the content of these works is good or bad. They consider the form and method of writings and put them to use in their creations.

A Biblical Literature class was also begun to intensively study the Bible's kind of literature and how it applies to the background of today's reading. The class also applies the music origin.

All in all, the English Department is getting a new look and "change" is the key word.

Sequoya, Tudor-Madrigal Dinner, Take English Study Outside Class

The annual Tudor-Madrigal Dinner, presented by the Warren Central Music and English departments, gives Juniors and Seniors a chance to show creativity and originality.

At the dinner, the students relive through authentic re-creation of the customs, music, and costumes one of the most interesting eras in English history.

Such activities as the crowning of a queen and king, a wassial ceremony, a feast, and entertainment provided by the Warren Madrigals take place at the traditional program.

Sequoya is a collection of the literary contributions of Warren Central students. A faculty committee, along with a student committee, work together to select materials which will go into the book.

Students submit original essays, poems, short stories, and for the first time this year, a play was accepted. The students wishing to submit compositions, give them directly to their English teachers, or to Mr. Shortz, the director.

New Librarians And Procedures Improve T

The Usefullness Of W.C.'s Media Center

This year's staff contains two new librarians, head librarian Mrs. Martin and assistant librarian Mrs. Weisman. These two, along with clerks Mrs. Thayer and Mrs. Franklin, and 28 student assistants make up the library staff.

Along with the new staff a few changes have come in the rules of the Media Center. Most important this year students were given separate passes by their teachers to cut down on the amount of people who go to the library to socialize, thus giving serious students a chance to use the facilities to their fullest advantage.

Warren Central's Media Center not only contains books and periodicals but is a complete center of learning containing all forms of audio-visual facilities and equipments for the inquiring student. The student also has the availability of separate booths and the use of conference rooms for group projects or recordings and records.

Mrs. Martin has stated, "It is a pleasure to work with students who have an inquiring mind as the majority of the students do," and that she has appreciated their conduct.

Communication Center Provides Opportunity

MRS. NELL BROOKS—BS, Butler University; Communications, OWL, WIGWAM; Quill & Scroll Sponsor.

For Student Experience In Mass Media

A relatively new course, Communications, is quickly growing in popularity at Warren Central. The class, taught by Mrs. Brooks, Mrs. Knauer, and Mr. Sanders, involves a probe into the basic fundamentals of radio broadcasting, television, news reporting and creative writing. The two semester course is made up of mostly juniors and sophomores with an interest in the increasingly important field of communications. In addition to classroom activities, the group also worked on a project for the PTA, a combined media presentation that was given on February 15.

Warren's Communication Center is a busy place September thru June with the school paper (the OWL), the yearbook (WIGWAM), and the radio station (WEDM), diligently working and producing for the entire year. The yearbook and newspaper, both sponsored by Mrs. Brooks, have the access to an excellent photo lab, their own work room, and spend a tremendous amount of time in the typing room. Mr. Sander's and Mrs. Knauer's young broadcasters and technicians gain invaluable information concerning world news through the two year old UPI teletype machine located inside of the typing room.

Each year Warren Central publications receive honors of excellence, but many of these honors can be accredited to the Communication Center layout, a place where creative minds can produce.

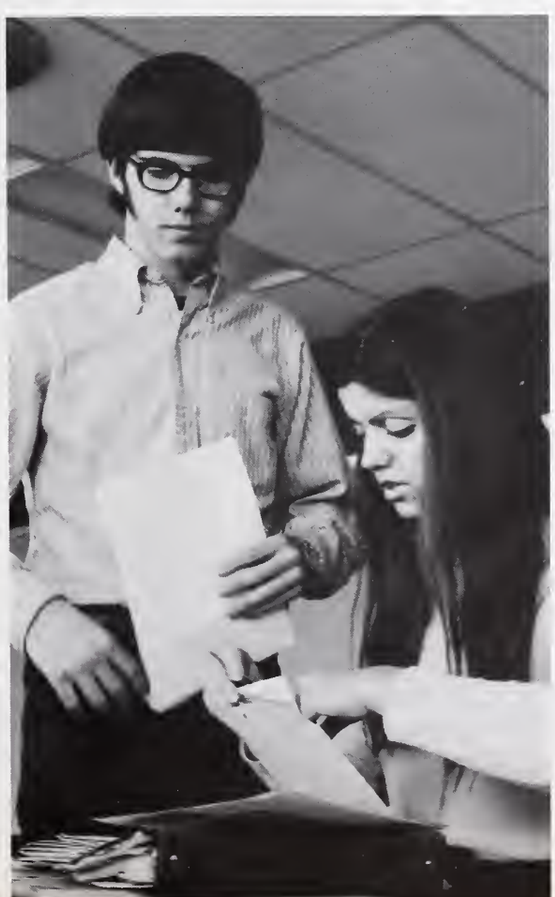
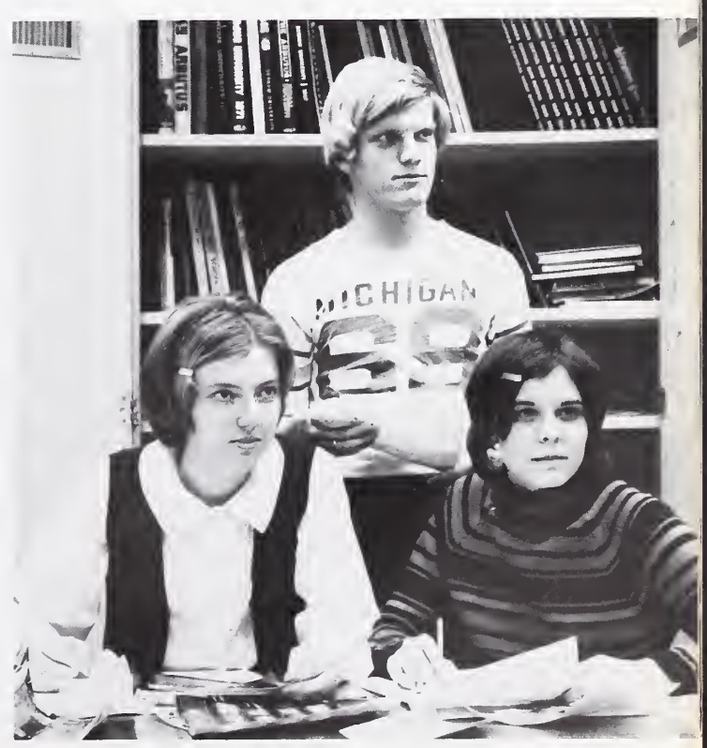
Anxiously Await Results Of Their Efforts

Just as no one can define to another what something will be like, no one can describe what it is to get a yearbook together. Giving time, patience, and setting the highest goals are what the WIGWAM staff strives for each time a deadline is to be met. However, meeting deadlines is only one of the jobs a WIGWAM Staff member accepts when he takes the position assigned to him. Picture sales, scheduling pictures, and OWL delivery are among his jobs.

A national organization, the Quill and Scroll is a communications organization that includes B average students who have contributed in some way to the yearbook, radio, or newspaper. Members sponsor the student directory sales and the homecoming mum sales which have been highly successful in past years.





Advertising, Economy Affect Owl Sports Spot Introduced To WC

Warren Central's weekly newspaper, the Warren OWL, faced a year of experimentation during 1971-1972.

Besides acquiring a two-day earlier deadline for each issue of the OWL, the staff changed the format of the paper. The paper originally ran six pages with sports on pages five and six. The format for the first semester included sports on pages three and four and was called The Sports Spot. During the second semester the OWL lost some advertising and limited the paper to only four pages.

The newspaper itself became more open and liberal towards the student body. The OWL covered such areas as civil liberties, the draft, and the controversy with W. G. U. (Warren Goes Underground). The OWL also proved to be a forum for students' ideas. Over ten letters to the editor were received in just the first semester.

The OWL went beyond the walls of Warren Central in service. The Eastsider, the Teen Scene, and Teen Star all published Warren Central news.

The OWL strived to work as a unit of communications with the radio station and the yearbook staff.

Speech, Debate Capture Trophies While Radio Station Is Completed

The 1971-72 school session was highlighted by the efforts of the National Forensic League, sponsored by Mrs. Susan Pearson. The team, led by such varsity members as Gary Hoffmann, Mike Owens, and Kelvin Roots, brought home many victories for Warren. Members of NFL are chosen on the basis of points accumulated throughout the year.

A total of 25 or more points must be earned to become a member of the speech and debate teams. Competing against 35 schools and over 700 contestants, the Warren Central speech team placed second in the Ball State speech meet. Winning individual trophies were Mike Owens, Patti Denges, Terry Gioe, and Doug Winings. Warren is proud of the skilled students and congratulates all participants.

The radio staff at Warren Central, produces and writes all shows for WEDM, Warren's radio station. The station is responsible for the broadcasting of Warren's sports events and musical programs along with the latest news. It is completely operated by Warren students. New students to the radio staff must complete the Communications class first before being assigned to the station. Before going on the air, they must obtain an operator's permit. The radio station made many improvements making it a very successful year.

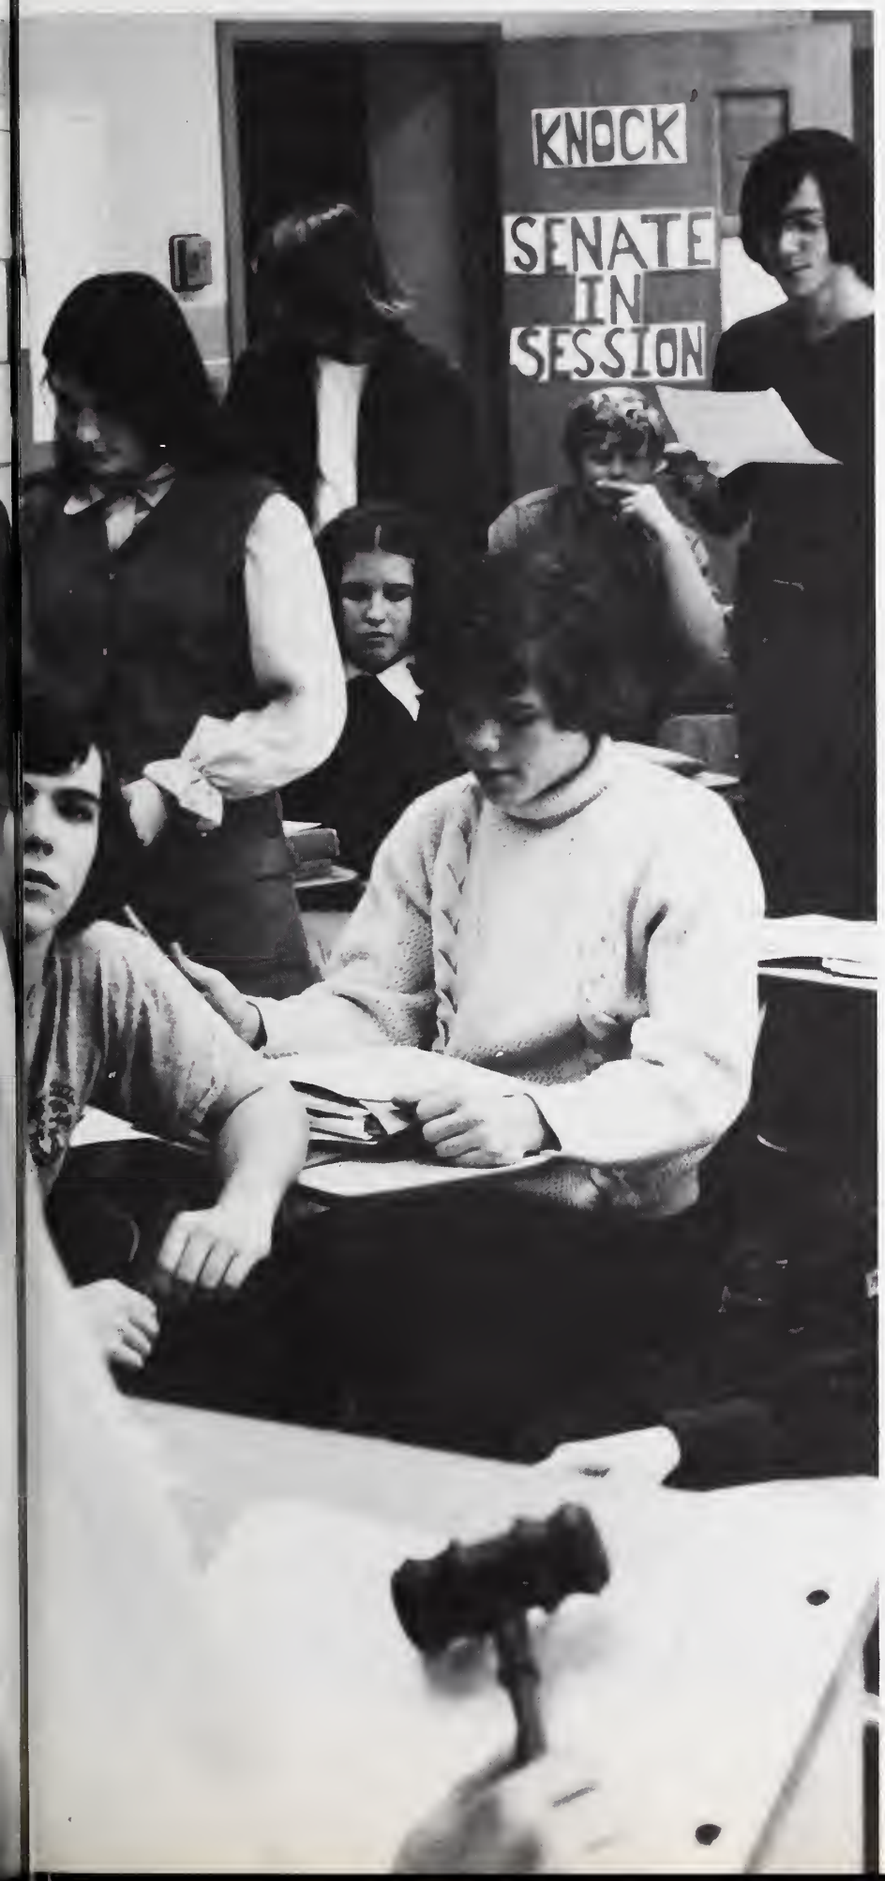
As 18 Year Olds Receive Right To Vote



Social Studies classes offered at Warren range from U. S. History and Government to Sociology and Family Living. The U. S. History class offers a study of the founding of the United States' democratic form of government. The Government classes elaborate on the workings of our governmental systems, through mock Senates and Houses, and of other countries and their forms of government.

Sociology centers on the relationships of men in the constantly changing world. Psychology offers an intent study of the individual and the working of his mind.

The growing need for the study and understanding explored in Social Studies is becoming more obvious each new year. In order to meet this challenge, our Social Studies Department made it possible for the 18 year olds to register to vote in the 1971 election.

(Center) Seniors got more involved than ever this year in their study of government. In the fall, mock senate sessions produced a flurry of activity led by a student moderator as one pupil read a bill aloud while others distributed bills for another reading or studied handouts.

Above) Mr. Feldman's Philosophy class analyzed men and their philosophies through class discussion. Each student participates in discussion by sharing their views with the rest of the class.

Philosophy Examines Thoughts; Chess Develops Self-Discipline

The Archery Club, Chess Club and the Philosophy Class enrich a student's life because of their diversified activities. All require an open mind, and an ability to logically reason things out.

The Chess Club, can at times be just as exciting as an athletic contest. The chess team is made up of people from various grade and age levels because the team plays by ability rather than age or grade. The team compiled an excellent record with the help of Terry Neely, Randy Wemple, Charlie McConnell, and a strong reserve.

The Philosophy Class not only requires an open mind, but a student who is able to form his own opinions and decide for himself what is right. Many students come into the class with one sided ideas they think will not change, but after completing a semester of Philosophy the students are able to see both sides and change when necessary.

Due to the fine coaching of Mr. McKenzie, the chess advisor, and the teaching of Mr. Feldman, the philosophy teacher, both of these involvements are very successful at Warren.

In addition to the academic side of school the Archery Club, involves students from all grades who are interested in sports. Many students at Warren enjoy the Archery Club each year.

Exploratory Teaching, FTA Gives Insight Into Vocational Selections

After coming into contact with teachers since the age of about seven years, some selected Warren Central students now get a chance to see teaching from the other side of the desk. Exploratory Teaching adds to the Warren curriculum an opportunity to get outside the walls of high school and mix with students of differing age levels. In setting up the teaching schedules, the members of the classes are required to teach on both the grade school and the junior high levels and are prompted to try both an informal classroom as well as the regular classroom.

Exploratory teachers meet on Monday in the classroom to share experiences gained the previous week as well as to hear guest speakers such as previous exploratory teachers, school board members, and college counselors. The remaining part of the week is spent in individual teaching assignments. With the change in homeroom schedule, this class will move from its usual first period spot to second. Although the "new" teachers are not quite as experienced as the regular classroom instructor, members of the class being taught seem to enjoy the variation and readily accept them.

Along with the teaching program offered at Warren, the Future Teachers of America Club gives insight into the profession. Among the varied activities concerned with FTA was an entry in the Homecoming Float contest with the theme "They couldn't bear to be taught a lesson" which won the award for the best float for 1971.

A conference in Washington D. C. capped off the FTA activities. Warren Central sent a member of the club as a representative. Other activities of the year included trips to possible college sites around Indiana.

Students Realize World Problems Through Foreign Communications

The Foreign Language Department is dedicated to help the students of Warren Central realize the foreign related problems that are present in our world today. Language teachers are educating the student in both foreign communications and cultural aspects of each language.

All four sections of the department, French, German, Latin, and Spanish, are now offering a beneficial third and fourth year class so that students may advance their knowledge of learning about those countries. The Latin section received enough inquiries to form their advanced class, which meets during homeroom just this year.

Not enough can be said of the tremendous audio-visual equipment that aids all classes. Students seem to be more informed on their subjects whether they be watching a color filmstrip from Spain or just listening to the accented syllables of a French dialogue.

Combination Of Effort And Talent Produce A

Rating among the most active clubs at Warren Central are the French and German Clubs who, with the Latin and Spanish Clubs jointly sponsored a float for the Homecoming activities.

Contacting prospective pen-pals and viewing slides from France are some of the various activities of the French Club. Any student who has completed one year of French, with an A average, is eligible for the French Honor Society, which was formed internationally by French teachers.

Octoberfest, provided food and entertainment for many German students. The many and varied projects of this club indicate the club's interest in anything that advances the standards of knowledge of the German language and culture.

The Christmas holidays were highlighted with the Spanish Club's annual party, featuring a pinata, which was decoratively suspended from the ceiling while blindfolded Spanish Club members attempted to crack it open with long pole.

Attired in Roman dress, the 25 members of the Latin Club assembled on the 20th of December to enjoy Saturnalia, a Roman style banquet. Other activities included the construction of a catapult and presenting movies such as "Anne of a Thousand Days" for the Warren Central audience.

Figures, Shapes Face Students In Mathematics

Mathematics importance in our society is increasing constantly. The Math Department at Warren Central faces up to the challenge and responsibility which society places on the school. Through courses like Computer Math or Calculus, the student is more able to prepare for the ever-increasing world of computers and advanced Math.

The basic foundations of Math are laid in such courses as Algebra and Geometry. Students learn how to apply their knowledge of these courses by solving story problems which may relate to the situations found in every day life. Many teaching aids, such as space figures and overhead projectors, are used by the teachers to illustrate difficult ideas and concepts to the students.

This year the Math Department held informal classes during homeroom to help the students understand the use of the slide-rule. This knowledge was especially helpful to the Chemistry students, who found the ability very necessary to solve the challenging problems of Chemistry.

Fascinating Science Courses Lure Many

(Above) When an experiment in Chemistry is under process, all horse play must come to an end. Here, four first year chemistry students show that they mean business as they experiment with glass.

(Far Above) Physics includes many detailed aspects in Science. Bill Kuntz is demonstrating a precision experiment to the entire class.

(Right) Zoology is the study of animals, botany is the study of plants. Many Warrenites would say that they are the same, but ask Jan Roberts or Dave Moline about the differences, as here they study an intricate part of a plant in a Botany class.

Warren Students Into Future Professions

The Science Department of Warren Central has been expanding to fit the needs of the student body. The Narcotics class was in great demand among the students and was one of the most popular courses of the entire school.

Each Warrenite is required to complete two years of science before graduation. Biology, as well as Chemistry, provided an opportunity for laboratory experimentation, and they laid the foundations for more advanced courses. Physics and Advanced Chemistry are two of the more difficult courses, and they provide the students with many challenging ideas.

Physiology examined our bodies and their functions thoroughly. Physical Science sought to equip Warrenites with general information about different areas of science. Botany allowed the student a chance to examine plant life in great detail by studying the systems of plants, such as photosynthesis, and the importance of plants in our world. Zoology, the most advanced course, is the study of the animal kingdom. This was an extremely challenging course since each student dissected his own specimen, presented it to his class, and prepared a test from his observations.

Warren's science courses tried to enable each individual to be more alert to the scientific problems of our universe, such as pollution and nuclear energy, and inform them of what each may do to improve the conditions of our universe.

Young Scientists Face Problems Of Our World

Many classes are offered at Warren, but none informs the students more about the present than the Narcotics class. Taught by Mr. Paul Conwell, the class informs the students about both sides of the drug experience. There is not only discussion but personal interviews with people that have experienced drugs and by the city police.

Relating to the Science field are the Science and Biology Clubs at Warren. Both clubs allow the students to extend their knowledge outside of class and to experiment with more difficult problems. The Science Club deals with many types of science from physical science to oceanography. The Biology Club is for students interested in exploring the field of Biology.

Both clubs take field trips throughout the year which enable the students to connect their knowledge with the actual problems and relate them to the future.

Latest In Ovens Futurizes Home Ec Area

Through Warren's varied program in Home Economics, students supply themselves with the background needed to be successful homemakers.

Foods students, boys and girls alike, have a new appliance to work with, a Micro-wave oven. Its purpose is to cut down the time spent waiting for the food to cook, which leaves more time for the students to taste and enjoy their products.

Clothing is a must for those who wish to economize by making their own clothes. Because of the basic techniques learned in clothing class, some Warren students have gone on to win ribbons at the 4-H Fair for their dress-making achievements.

In addition to the basics of Foods and Clothing, the Home Ec Department offer courses, such as Housing, Consumer Buying, and Child Care, which provide the students with much practical knowledge to be applied later on in life.

Music Arouses Pleasure For All

"There is no fun without music and no music without fun." The Music Department at Warren fulfills this statement to their greatest capacity with high standards of quality. Students involved in music bring joy to others as they share their accomplishments, the results of hard work and long hours of practicing.

Throughout the year, the Music Department prepares various special convocations for the enjoyment of the student body. They are certainly appreciated for providing a pleasurable atmosphere into the routine of school. Other activities include working with the Drama Department on the annual Spring musical performance and participating in individual and group contests. This gives the student the opportunity to test his talents with other students.

Warren Band, Warriorettes Provide E

Entertainment during the half-time of football and basketball games is provided by the Band and Warriorettes. Their enthusiastic musical selections and colorful routines aroused much spirit for the Warriors.

The Warriorettes, sponsored by Miss Fox, perform many attractive twirling routines that catch everyone's eye. They also display their talent by entering in twirling contests and the United States Twirling Association contests.

Included in the schedule for the Band this year was musical performance in November entitled "All That Jazz". The Stage Band performed this year in the Notre Dame Jazz Festival and a concert with Lawrence Central and North Central was planned for May.

Concert Band, Orchestra Displays Wide Variety Of Excellent Talent

The Concert Band, under the direction of Mr. James Chandler, displayed its talent along with the Band in the November concert, "All That Jazz". Throughout the year they participated in a variety of performances for Warren and the community. They are also entered in many contests and have proved to be very talented young musicians.

This year the Concert Orchestra, conducted by Mr. Bruce Fowler, participated in the Pop Concert which was performed during November. Community affairs were sometimes the sites of the Orchestra's programs, as well as the convocations and other school functions.

This year the young musicians are given more insight into musical development and appreciation which may help the student who is preparing for a possible musical career.

WC Symphony Plays Classical, Baroque, Pop

Violins, flutes and clarinets are necessary parts of the Warren Symphony Orchestra, but more than the instruments is necessary to produce the sound the Orchestra possesses. Conducted by Mr. Bruce Fowler, the Orchestra has proven to be rich in the ability and talent vital to the group.

The Orchestra's performance at the Pop Concert and at Clowes Hall were only two of the many special events in which the group appeared. Many school functions such as the Easter Sunday Service, the annual musical, Honor Society Induction, Baccalaureate, and Commencement are supplemented by the excellent musical selections of the Orchestra.

Warren Central's 1971-72 Chamber Orchestra consists of the twenty-eight top members of the Symphony Orchestra. Their rather unique music, performed for school functions and community affairs, was chosen from the Baroque Period of Music.

Display Students Varied Abilities, Talents

Singing at convocations is only one of the many functions at which the Girl's Glee Club, Warrenaires and Chantelles display their abilities.

Girl's Glee Club is mainly for beginning music students. Approximately forty girls participate in this group. Under the direction of Miss Barbara Robertson and Mr. Phillip Dunn, they practice during second period to learn new arrangements.

The largest music group at Warren is Warrenaires. This seventy member choir gives students the background needed for selection into one of the accomplished singing groups.

Chantelles is an all-girl ensemble containing forty-eight members. Its members, as all other vocal groups, are chosen by audition only. Chantelles, along with the Trebletones, Windsors and Madrigals, performed at Monument Circle during the Christmas holidays.

Madrigal Girls Get Pant Dresses; Trebletones Increase In Number

Selection into one of Warren's top vocal groups, Madrigals, Trebletones or Windsors, is the ambition of every Warren music-oriented student.

Windsors consists of twenty-three young men, who under the direction of Mr. Phillip Dunn, perform at various events. Their unique and harmonizing style adds spice to Warren musical programs.

By giving performances at nursing homes, the Tudor-Madrigal dinner, and at the Christmas Concert, this year's Trebletones managed to keep themselves busy. Under the direction of Miss Barbara Robertson, these twenty-three girls also perform at many of the school convocations.

Madrigals, Warren's top music group, consists of thirteen girls and twelve boys. Knowing only the most experienced voices are chosen to this elite group of singers, each Warrenite singer strives to achieve this position.

Thespians Produce Plays, Musical As Performers Attain Perfection

This year's Dramatics Department was one of Warren's busiest. Included under this heading is Dramatix Club, various plays, the musical, Thespians and the subject offerings, Dramatics I & II and Drama III & IV.

New to the curriculum this year, Drama III & IV is a continuation of the first year course. Its objective is to learn more about the history of Drama and the proper way to apply make-up.

For the first time, Thespians resumed performing children's plays with the production, "The Princess And The Pea."

"Carousel" was the musical presented in the spring of 1971. Linda Pearce, portraying Julie Jordan and Dan Thomas, as Billy Bigelow, played the leading roles, while Mark Willen alias Sheridan Whiteside and Penny Quilter as Maggie led the other performers in the 1971-1972 Senior class play, "The Man Who Came To Dinner."

Art Department Places Stress On Individuality

Letting a student be himself would be a good way to describe the technique used by the Art Department. The student is allowed time to be creative and work individually.

Handicrafts, which is taught by Mrs. Adamay Alexander, teaches the concept of looking beneath the obvious association between things. To illustrate her point, Mrs. Alexander lists the different ways a golf tee may be used; for example, as a nail to hold cardbord together or in a loom for crocheting. This is called diversion thinking.

Graphics Art was the newest subject offering in Art. The students were responsible for the printing of posters advertising school functions.

Some of Mr. Foster's and Mrs. Alexander's art classes undertook the project of making "death masks." The finished product is what the individual artist felt the mask should look like.

Added Course Expands Business

Warren Central's Business Education Department offers many courses which are aimed at preparing students to handle their responsibilities in business situations found in everyday life.

Courses such as Shorthand, Typing, and Clerical Practice have enabled many graduating students to begin work immediately as secretaries and general office workers with high recommendations.

Computer Programming teaches the basic principles of how a computer operates and its applications, along with preparing a student for further education in data processing or a career.

To help a student grasp the complexities of the business world, courses such as Business Math and Business Law were created. The new course, Sales and Marketing, was added to study the development of a product through all the processes and decisions involved team product selection through sales.

Machines Working For, With Man Emphasized In 3 Warren Courses

Learning the basic fundamentals of safely operating a motor vehicle is the objective of Warren's Driver Education course. While being taught everything from how to put the key into the ignition to the proper way to parallel park, a Warren student also attends class to learn about insurance, parts of an engine and such trivial things as changing a tire. Following completion of the course, students may apply for their regular operator's license when they reach 16 years and 1 month.

Machine Shop, and Power and Transportation are only two of the subjects offered in the area of Industrial Arts at Warren. With the expansion of the curriculum into new depths, it leaves no aspect of shop uncovered. By giving students a better chance to develop individual skills, Warren's shop courses are credited with laying the foundation for tomorrow's architects and engineers.

Experiences In Industrial Arts Develop

The Industrial Arts section of Warren's curriculum has always been depicted as the "manual side" of learning. The Industrial Art Department is one of the hardest working and most underrated sections considering the importance of the variety of trades that are based on the subject matter. Warren Central offers a variety of lab type courses to the student who wants to excel in this field.

Transportation is a favorite course among Warrenites because of its practicality and the students have a chance to bring their own automobiles into class to work on. Electronics, another interesting course, teaches the basic elements of electricity and its uses and abuses. These courses along with Graphic Arts, Machine Shop, Printing, Drafting and Metal Shop give the individual a chance to display his skill and to help build for the future, while bettering himself and being creative.

Students Strive Toward Fitness

A variety of activities, which is a part of Warren's Physical Education program, emphasizes good health and physical fitness.

With one six weeks a semester devoted to swimming and the remaining two to gym class, students find there is never a free or dull moment. Learning to dive, playing water games and saving lives are all included in Warren's swimming program. Upon completion of the life-saving course, one may become a life guard at Warren's or a neighboring pool.

Out-of-bounds, touchdown, game point, spike and home run are just a few terms used while learnnig to play various indoor and outdoor sports in gym class. Seniors may remember when gym was alternated with study hall with the transition to every day occurring at the beginning of the second semester of their sophomore year. Now only sophomores are required to take physical education.

WC's Finest Batmen In Years Sectional Champs Finish At 15-4

A quick look at the statistics will show the emphasis Warren baseballers placed upon winning. Coach Don Foreman's squad finished with a 15 won and 4 loss record and climaxed the winning season by capturing the sectional title. During the sectional, Warren defeated teams from Scecina, Howe, Beech Grove, and New Castle.

Play began on a winning note by taking both ends of a double-header, 8-0 and 10-0 from Tech. Another important victory, 7-6, against Howe, came on Mike Clancy's seventh inning grand slam during the sectionals played at Warren.

The Warriors placed two members on the All-County team from 1971, Larry Davis (outfield), and Jim Pandoli (catcher). The fans were treated to sterling plays by shortstop Mike Roberts and the fine pitching performances by Brad Smith, Rick Burns and Gary Matthews throughout the entire season.

Reserves End With 5-3 Record, Strong Nucleus For '72 Varsity

The 1971 Reserve Baseball squad exemplified Warren's winning style by compiling a record of 5-3 under the guidance of Coach Bill Porter.

The team practiced with the varsity baseballers until the weather broke and then moved onto the reserve diamond to polish up for the season opener. The team was composed almost entirely of sophomores who jelled early in the season by defeating Tech in the first game. Against the Titans the Warriors ran wild and ended the game with the score reading Warren 32 and Tech 2.

Coach Porter's squad continually worked on the skills of hitting and fielding, turning out a great number of varsity caliber athletes. Tom Hendricks moved to varsity and patrolled second base during the County and Sectional tourneys. John Jefferson and Dale Holcomb also saw some action throughout the year. These three players along with the fine moundwork of Scott Yelvington and Rick Ponton formed the nucleus for the team.

Fighting Spirit To Surpass Former Goals

"Placing first in the 100 yard sprint is Warren Central with a time of 10.9!" This and many other victory cries were heard around the cinder track last spring as the Warriors finished 48-25 completing a very successful season.

A winning season is not easily achieved. It takes hard work by each member of the team at all times and, most of all, a desire to win. Leading Warren to victory last spring by placing consistently were Doug Fentz, Wayne Stetina, Gary Bohnert, and Mike Hannefey.

"The '71 season was good and the team had a lot of depth," said Bob Power, a junior member of the team. The finest example of the team's depth was the Franklin Relays. At these relays nearly every man on the squad scored and the team brought home a first place trophy.

Later in the season, four of Warren's cindermen, Bob Power, John Underwood, Wayne Stetina, and Doug Fentz, advanced to the regionals. The '71 team aided by many returning lettermen, combined with an excellent coaching staff to produce an athletic team of which Warren can be proud.

Warren Varsity Linksmen Drive Fore Another Sectional Victory

Linksmen Mike Hacker and Mike Landram led the '71 golf team to an outstanding season. Aided by sophomore Doug Pirtle and graduating Seniors Wyman Stewart, Chris Nold and Jeff Doty, the Warriors finished with a record of 60 wins and four losses competing against some of the best teams in the state. Mike Landram said of last year's team, "Warren Central was considered to be one of the most balanced teams in the state."

Beginning early in the season, Warren indicated their dominance by belting Lawrence Central by a score of 397 to 425. Each member of Coach Roach's team helped to achieve the outstanding record which included capturing the county trophy against some tough competition from Brebeuf and North Central. After their county triumph, the linksmen captured third in the Sectionals and advanced to the regionals at Richmond. Coach Roach and the team were greatly disappointed when they missed the state finals by a mere shot.

Many Intramural Golfers Improve With Assists From Varsity Squad

Scores between 72 and 110 were often recorded during the intramural golf season last fall. Intramural golf allows the novice golfers, as well as the experienced golfer, to get a few extra rounds of golf in before the first snow.

The golf intramural program encourages new golfers to come out in the spring and non-golfers to take up the sport. The intramural golf squad teaches skills to the beginning golfer and allows experienced golfers to touch up difficult shots. Outstanding in the 1971 practice season were Mike Landrum, Bob Homburg, Mike Unger, and Dan Shields.

The intramural golf program is sponsored by Mr. Robert Masterson, the new golf coach. Trophies were given to the low medalist Mike Unger, and Ken Hudson.

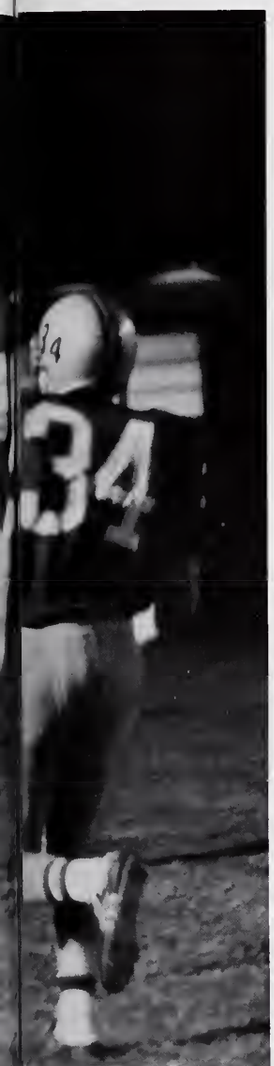
Varsity Squad Finishes With 4-6 Season

After Hectic Campaign Of Close Losses



"Everyone practiced hard and tried to be up for every game," said quarterback Doug Pirtle of the '71 Warrior football squad. Although their record doesn't tell the entire truth, the close scores do. Throughout the entire season the gridmen lost only one game by more than one touchdown while playing such perennial country "toughies" as North Central and Southport.

The team had great talent and played exciting football all season long behind the offensive punch of Larry Davis (leading scorer) and Bob Powers at running back positions. Along with the Doug Pirtle to Scott Yelvington combination and Jeff Ernest's PATS they scored 35 points or more three times. Other outstanding performers were Richard Wray, Brent Smoch, Mark Bohnert, and Chris Nowak. Chris was the only Warrior chosen for the first team all-county squad.

Perhaps the best description of the year was given by Jim Mendenhall when he said after a disappointing contest, "Spirit grew day after day, looks like Friday will be a good game."

WC Football Hopes For 72 Rise With Reserves Brilliant 8-1 Tally

For the second consecutive year the Warren Central junior varsity completed another excellent season by posting an 8-1 record. Under the guidance of Coaches Jerry Stauffer and Charles Pfluger the warriors picked up where they left off last year. Although the season consists of nine games, once again the campaign boiled down to the last game for the county championship against Decatur Central. The young Warriors came away with a hard fought victory, 6-0, and captured the county crown for the second year in a row.

Dave Todd and Bruce Wessling, prowling from their linebacker positions, proved to be pillars of strength on defense and Bruce also handled the kicking chores. They were assisted by the fine play of Dean Glesing, Jim Meyer, and Rick Young on the hard hitting squad. These Warriors, plus many more, helped to spearhead a defensive squad that racked up five shut outs during the campaign.

The Warriors defensive prowess was equally matched by the offensive units scoring power. The reserves outscored their opponents 150 to 42 and were consistent throughout the season. The ground attack featured Jim Meyer, the leading scorer with 78 points.

Excellent Cross Country Runners Become

First Warriors Competing In State Meet

The grueling sport of Cross Country has found a winning home at Warren Central. Although Cross Country has not been a large spectator sport in the past, its popularity is growing with each year.

Leading the varsity squad throughout the season was Junior Steve Patterson, and Senior Tim Nelson. Placing well consistently for the reserve team were John Lutton, David Harwell, John Manthey, and Rick Droeger. Although sickness and injury plagued the harriers toward the end of the season, the team finished by placing 6th in the state meet at Richmond.

This was a remarkable showing for Coach Conway, in his first year of coaching a Cross Country team.

1971 Tennis Team Is Hampered By Construction Of Modern Court

The '71 Tennis team finished 18 and 44 showing much improvement over last year's team. The team was aided by returning senior lettermen Jeff Short, Jeff Watson, Terry Leyenberger, Mark Wright and junior letterman Paul Stuteville. Although Dave Criswell did not play as a junior, as the result of an injury, he played excellent tennis and was the number one man.

The season began with the Warriors defeating New Palestine 7-0 and tying Arlington 2-2. Although no other season matches were won, the team did very well during tournament play.

The squad began practicing twice a day during mid-August but Coach DeBruicker's crew was definitely hampered because the new courts were not completed as planned. The team was forced to practice at Woodview, but in spite of this, the team finished 5th out of 12 teams in the sectionals.

Warriors Experiment With New Styles Of Playing During Season

Warren's Warriors ended another exciting season of varsity action with a record of 11 wins and 9 losses against some of the stiffest competition in the state. Included in their 11 wins were victories over Columbus and Carmel and an amazing comeback win over Franklin Central.

Starting County Tourney play by defeating Lawrence 69 to 31, the Warriors moved into the semi-finals at Southport against North Central. Coach Bob Masterson's crew, led by Larry Davis's 27 points, played nip and tuck with the Panthers for three and a half quarters until the eventual champs ran off a string of 10 straight points to end any hopes Warriors had of repeating as county champs.

One of the most exciting games in recent years at Warren was the regular season ending game against the Franklin Central Flashes. Due to the Flashes fast-break and a cold shooting touch the Warriors found themselves down by 18 points at half-time. The second half turned around to be a complete opposite with the insertion of Rob Robertson at guard. Both the offense and defense perked up and the Warriors "smoked" the Flashes 76-63.

The '72 team was led in scoring by all-county selection Larry Davis and Gary Matthews, the rebound chores were handled by Jeff Ernest and Marc Toffolo. Along with Dave Kleyn and Doug Pirtle, the squad played steady ball the entire season.

Determined Reservers Show Much Improvement By End Of Season

One of the most important jobs of a reserve coach is to prepare his boys for future varsity competition. Coach DeBruicker does an excellent job of doing this, and this year his prepping led the reserve team to the county championship.

This year's squad had a somewhat disappointing 6-15 record, but two consecutive victories brought the Reserve County Trophy to Warren for the first time in many years.

Coach DeBruicker used many different starting combinations throughout the year, most of them revolving around 6-6 Richard Mack in the middle.

Assisting Mack on the boards were Jeff Hearn, Don Shields, and Greg DeBruicker. These boys, and John Harmas, Scott Harris, and Dennis Sweat, scored over 50 points on 4 different occasions.

Battle For Senior Crown Creates Much

This season proved to be one of the most exciting in recent years for the IBA (Intramural Basketball Association) with close competition throughout the season in each of the three divisions.

In the Sophomore division, the Supporters went through the regular season with an unblemished record, trailed closely by the Bears, who eventually became the champions of the Sophomore division.

The MoFo's proved to be the "cream of the crop" in the Junior division as they handily defeated 9 out of 10 foes. Included on their list were the Bo-Bickies, who they defeated by 15 in the divisional finals to claim the Junior division.

This year in the Senior division the action was fast and furious with three teams battling for the top spot, the Krabz, Miller High Life, and the Running Nostrils. The Nostrils prevailed as they met and defeated the Krabz in the semi-finals of the play-offs. In an upset the Boone's Farmers defeated High Life to set the stage for the final game. The Nostrils with a good pattern offense, featuring the "Lane Buster" Gary Brown and a blazing fast break led by "Zippo" Dan Collier and Jeff Short, defeated the Boone Farmers 39-26.

Excitement And Competition During IBA

Wrestling Season Highlights Include Many

The third best wrestling squad in the state was found at Warren this year. The team, led by state champion Andy Watt and runner-up Robin Rusterholz, also took county and sectional crowns.

The team looked strong from the beginning by defeating Decatur 48 to 11. They were led by strong returning lettermen Mike Reddick, runner-up in Regionals, Shaya Petruniw, Arnie Brown and Dick Held. The team also won two invitationals, one at Carmel and our own. After a tough season against some of the state's finest, the team finished undefeated in dual competition.

The first major title won the '72 squad was the county. Shaya Petruniw, Mike Green, Arnie Brown and Robin Rusterholz proved their experience and ability by becoming county champions in their respective weight classes.

Under the excellent guidance of head coach Allen Morgan and his assistant Don Foreman the grapplers became a regarded state power.

Swim Team Perfects New Skills

The 71-72 swim team did an excellent job all year but perhaps their most outstanding achievement was placing 13th in the state finals.

Improvement over previous years was shown in both the county and sectional meets. The team's mixture of strength and talent was revealed as they finished 4th in the county and the sectional.

Tom Hendrich's fine work was exemplified by the 5th place in state and 1st in county competition, which he earned for his 1 meter diving. Mike Kelly, a freshman from Woodview, swam the 100 yard breast stroke, for which he captured the sectional crown and finished 6th in the state.

The combined efforts of four string swimmers, John Schilk, Mike Kelly, Phil Johnson and Tom Cunningham, achieved a 10th place in state competition for the 200 yard medley relay.

The success of the team can be attributed to the outstanding coaching of Mr. Con Keller and the hard work and talent of the squad.

Gymnasts Find An Extra Effort Creates Victory

Individual determination, ability, and desire are needed to succeed in gymnastics. The sport puts emphasis on the individual, who is expected to achieve for himself and his team. Each team member realizes that his performance depends only on him, he can not hope that his teammates will make up for any shortcomings in his performance.

The '72 gymnasts, coached by Mr. Don Kassen, succeeded in winning 7 of 10 meets, and after some improvements were made they defeated county rivals Southport and Pike.

Mike Payne and John Underwood were both outstanding in all round competition. In this event, which includes floor exercise, long horse, vaulting, side horse, horizontal bar, parallel bars, and still rings, these boys provided the catalyst necessary to win.

The squad achieved in the county by capturing 2nd place. In the state finals, which were held at Warren, Mike Payne distinguished himself by placing 2nd on the trampoline.

Athletic Ability Displayed In GAA

Girl's Athletic Association allows Warren girls to participate in many sports that would otherwise be unavailable to them.

During the fall the girls are outside and the main emphasis is on softball, but when the weather turns colder the girls move inside for a full repertoire of winter activities.

Two of the largest GAA sponsored programs are the girl's gymnastics and swimming. This year's girls' gymnastic team gained in both stature and size over last season.

The girls' swim team placed well in the state-wide tourney that concluded the season. They were led by Pam Wilson in the 1 meter diving and Ann Huston and Mary Gawrys in the swimming events.

Probably the largest and one of the most exciting GAA sponsored activity is the girls' bowling league. Over 80 girls participated this year with awards going to many individuals. Along with the appointment of a girl's athletic commissioner for the state of Indiana make the future look bright for the growing GAA.

FCA, Lettermen's Club Assist Charities; Boy's, Girls Pep Block Support Teams

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes and the Letterman's Club both made many worthwhile contributions during the school year, such as feeding and clothing needy families. Mr. Larry Willen's Lettermen sold license plates and also officiated at all of Warren's home basketball games. The FCA, sponsored by Mr. Jerry Stauffer, conducted a recreation program for youngsters and raised enough funds to send five members to the national convention this coming summer.

The Girls and Boys Pep Block, who received new uniforms this year, tried to keep spirit high throughout the year, and they could be heard loud and strong wherever the Mighty Warriors played. The clubs, sponsored by Mr. John Orr and Mrs. Bobbie Callahan, both built floats for the annual fall homecoming. The floats were major projects for the clubs. The boys hard work was rewarded when their float, "Bears Smell De-Feet," received the "Most Humorous" award.

Another relatively new group at Warren also known for their outstanding spirit, was the Mat Maids, who also received new uniforms this year. These girls attended the varsity and reserve wrestling meets and assisted the officials and helped to keep the crowd's enthusiasm going strong.

Ten Girls Help To Add Spirit Plus Excitement

"Let's Get Fired Up" is just one of the many chants Warren students hear coming from ten smiling faces, the faces of Warren's six Varsity and four Reserve Cheerleaders.

After spring tryouts the new varsity cheerleaders began practicing for the clinics and camps they would be attending during the summer months. Smith-Walbridge Cheerleading Camp, located in Syracuse, Indiana, was the site of one of these clinics. In state wide competition, Warren's six "pep pushers" managed to win the Spirit Stick and the Coca-Cola Award.

On October 9, 1971, they traveled to Cincinnati, Ohio to the Tri-State competition. Sixty squads from Indiana, Kentucky and Ohio entered competition with Warren's talented squad bringing back the second place trophy.

Also under the sponsorship of Mr. John Orr and Mrs. Bobbie Callahan are the four Reserve Cheerleaders. This year was the first time any Warren Reserve squad attended a cheerleading clinic. Indiana State University sponsored the clinic, which was held October 30, 1971. Together with "Mighty Warrior" Chance Harrell and "Squaw" Sue Bott, the Reserve Cheerleaders performed their rendition of an Indian Victory Dance. This unusual tradition, which instills spirit and pride, is a great favorite among Warren boosters.

Graduation from high school is often referred to as "the beginning of an end." After the twelve years of school has finally come to an end on a warm June day when one receives the diploma which signifies years of work preparing for the final moment, "the beginning of the end."

For some, it is the beginning of college . . . for others, a career in a field for which, perhaps, four years of high school has prepared them.

Whatever, each person works his way through school to finally become a senior, graduate, and go out into the awaiting world; working to complete his piece of the final high school design.

The Junior Council officers are Mike Hannefey (treasurer), Terry Byrne (secretary), Gary Bohnert (president), and Glenn Cunningham (vice-president).

Acting in the interest of all juniors, Warren Central's Junior Council is responsible for planning all major activities for the class.

The four officers of the Junior Council pictured on the previous page, participate in the Inter-Council. The Inter-Council composed of the officers of the Student Council and Junior and Senior Councils sponsors the Christmas dance as a joint effort.

Homeroom representative to Junior Council, one boy and one girl were chosen late in September. Two other homeroom members represented the group on the Student Council which also met on Wednesday mornings.

Providing an opportunity for the girls to have a chance to "do the asking," the Junior Council sponsored the annual Turnabout on February 19.

The Junior Prom in April, probably the most awaited as a memorable event of the Junior year is the major responsibility of the Council. A site must be chosen, entertainment provided and decorations purchased within the Junior Council budget.

Sophomores Find Courses Harder, Activities Added

Sophomores . . . the class of 1974 is a compilation, a mixture. They brought with them traditions, friendships, and ideas mainly from Creston or Woodview Junior High Schools. They blend and mix themselves and their ideas in the new environment of Warren.

Mary Linville feels she needs to be two people sometimes as she thinks of homework to do before she returns to the completion of her English theme.

Classrings Are Regarded As A Necessity

As it has been done in the past four years, class rings were ordered. Late in September the sophomore student council representatives took orders from eager sophomores and the rings were soon a part of Warren's everyday life.

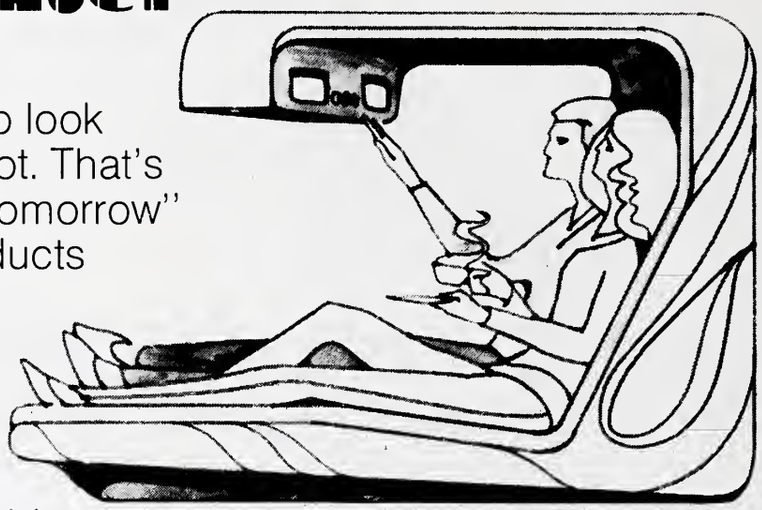
the television of tomorrow: now taking shape in RCA's Indianapolis design center



Does a TV set really have to look like a box? ■ RCA thinks not. That's because RCA is "thinking tomorrow" in the video and audio products we're designing today for you, to buy tomorrow. ■ The Lounge Module shown at right, for example, is a self-contained world of entertainment. A rollaround lounge chair with two TV sets, FM-AM radio and 8-track stereo—all built in! ■ What looks like an ultra-modern lighting concept (left) is the Video Satellite. That spherical chrome ball actually contains a 5-inch diagonal TV screen! ■ RCA's commitment to design leadership is reflected in these and many other "Generation III" experimental design concepts now on display at the new RCA Design Center. Drawing on innovative shapes, materials and moods, this collection marks a dramatic departure in sight and sound electronics. ■ For a fascinating glimpse into the future of home entertainment, you're invited to plan a group tour through the RCA Design Center, Sherman Drive & Michigan Street.

Clean Room Facilities Necessary For Phone Manufacture

Wearing clinical caps and gowns, Cindy Dore and Carl Franzen, whose fathers work at Western Electric, entered the company's clean room facilities to learn more about manufacturing hybrid integrated circuits.

Cleanliness is a by-word in the area because even a speck of dust could interfere with the proper working of the circuit which is no larger than a postage stamp. Through engineering research, the small circuit was developed to replace larger, heavier, more cumbersome components.

What's this mean to you? . . . A lighter-weight, more reliable Touch-Tone Trimline® telephone to use in the future.

SCHOOL BUS

PEACE
U.S.A

A magic mirror looking back,

Reflects the passing year.

The war disease across the seas,

And some things very near.

We've fought in wars throughout the world.

Our freedom's guaranteed.

But look at Ghettos and our

Blacks,

Have ever they been freed?

Viet Nam, Biafra, Bangladesh,

Strange sounds upon the ear.

Starvation, sickness, children

dead,

And people filled with fear.

LOTTERY

24

Some loved ones now have gone away,
And never shall return.
We suffer much and pay the price,
For lessons that we learn.

A simple game with simple rules.
A game we all must play.
We seldom score and never win.
Tomorrow's another day.

A turn-on trip at your expense.
A ticket bought with fear.
A world made up of pills
and grass,
Of Boonesfarm wine and beer.

Reflections of the days gone
by,
Of things that now have passed.
The future lies in times to come.
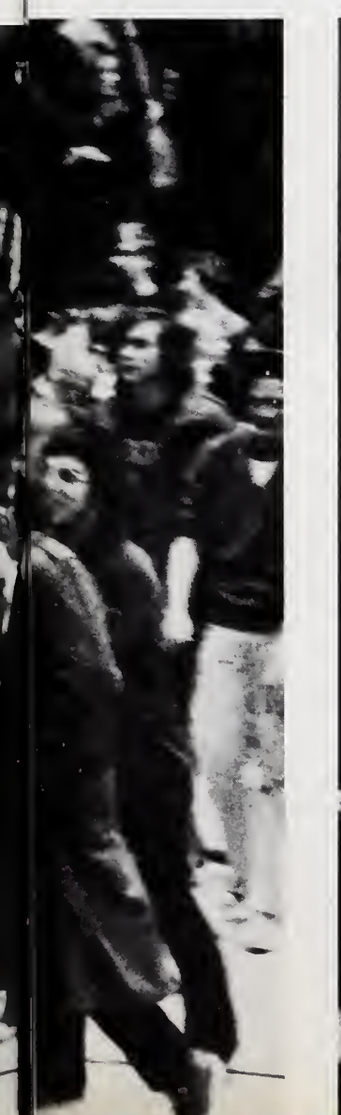
In stones that must be cast.



In case you haven't noticed, things were different this year. Dance attendance fell off, homeroom changed, the dress code changed, the yearbook changed, not drastically, but we did sincerely try to make it different. The price did not change, but the book was eight pages longer and the names were taken off the covers (due to cost and inventory problems). We tried to do some special things, such as blue pages, 5 closing pages, different division pages, which I hope you like. It became apparent as the year went on that the WIGWAM could not please all the students or faculty all the time. We did try to cover as much of the year as accurately and fairly as we could.

We hope you are pleased and that you will look through the book many times in the future.

The staff was mostly inexperienced. Only four people of the fourteen on staff had had any previous experience. This may sound like a problem but in many instances I think it worked for us. Only the hard work of the staff members compensated for the deficiencies.

This book would never have been completed without the valuable help of many people. Mrs. Nell Brooks was wonderfully patient and helpful to us all year long. She was always ready to present both sides and the decisions were always made by the yearbook staff. Marci Reddick was a semester draftee who helped a great deal, especially toward the final deadlines.

Many people other than staff members contributed to make the WIGWAM what it is. Mr. Max Galloway, senior photographer, supplemented the photography of our "temperemental" photographers. Our Newsfoto representative, Mr. Dick Kennard, proved to be a valuable help with many technical problems. Some of the pictures were taken on Mr. Herbert S. Fall's beautiful property, the use of which was greatly appreciated. Misses Sue and Pat Head were our division page designers, and we are grateful to have their skill and patience to work for us.

Looking back, it was really a "good" year. In spite of tests on deadline days, flared tempers of staff members, the flu, "tempermental" photographers, OWL deliveries, the Christmas party, and the general bedlam of activity, we made it.

The final thanks must go to the students and faculty, for without their concern and cooperation there would be no WIGWAM.
